

AnneRobson
Trust®

Dying Matters Week 11th – 17th May 2020

Dying Matters is a campaign that aims to bring conversations and talking about the subject of death and bereavement into the national agenda.

It's Time 2 Talk

The Anne Robson Trust is launching free virtual discussion opportunities during Dying Matters Week 2020 – 'It's Time to Talk'

Hosted by experienced members of our team, these virtual 45 minute discussions will take place live, and will help the group learn more about planning for the end of life, how to discuss this challenging subject with your nearest and dearest, and how to use our "My Wishes" checklist.

These discussions sit alongside podcasts hosted by our Patron Bill Turnbull <https://www.annerobsontrust.org.uk/podcasts/>

To register your interest in joining a discussion during Dying Matters week please email info@annerobsontrust.org.uk

Our work is entirely funded by voluntary donations.
To support us please visit our website www.annerobsontrust.org.uk/donate
The Anne Robson Trust is a registered Charity: 1178352